

I'm Airborn Aviation Network Takes Off!

New on-demand video streaming platform offering aviation-based content for adults and children alike

AUSTIN, TEXAS, AUGUST 24, 2018 - The subscription video on demand (SVOD)

market is going to reach approximately $23 billion within the next four years as consumers continue to demand amazing content at their fingertips, according to research firm Statista. I'm Airborn has just announced that they will further be catering to that demand with a streaming platform that offers a unique mix of aviation-based content.

As it stands, I'm Airborn has garnered the support of fans around the world, and now with the platform live, subscribers from the United States, New Zealand, Japan, Germany, England, Australia, France, and many other countries are lined up, now streaming this aviation video content.

The content ranges from ballooning, hang gliding, wing suit, training, classics, aerobatic & airshow, warbird, air-racing, airline / business, vintage aviation films, to unique children's aviation-based shows...and more.

The I'm Airborn Stars featured include: Patty Wagstaff, Joe Edwards, Scott "Scooter" Yoak, Duggy DC-3, Toby McPherson, Casey Odegaard, Birdman Bernie, Scott Dove, Mushamir Mustafa, Brandon Mikesell, Jeff Zaltman, Sasha Marvin, Mehmet Halis Aydogan, Ryan Rankin, and more.

Additionally for Kids, I'm Airborn exclusively features, 'Duggy, the Smile in the Sky!'. This marks the very first time the show will debut online. The Duggy Dream Team Show was Emmy nominated twice for Concept and Writing. New content, and all HD remastered previous content, will be launching soon.

According to Mitch Carley, CEO and founder of I'm Airborn, "Never before has any one network, channel, team, or organization gathered the top performers of such a diverse field within aviation as I'm Airborn has."

Carley's vision for I'm Airborn started in 2005, when he received a Copyright from the Library of Congress for an "all-aviation-web-delivered video network...until now the technology did not exist that would allow it to be a reliable-winning-concept..." Carley concluded.

"I envisioned a day when web-delivered media would become the next level of the magazine rack...niche, real-time dynamic content straight to the passionate consumer. I was in the corporate world when we began to deliver in real-time video messaging to over 350 corporate locations on a secured network - that was in the late 90s," said Carley. "I'm so proud of the relationships and friends that came to join in, as the featured Stars, content developers and more on this network."

The official I'm Airborn preview video was just published, offering interested people around the world a sneak peek of the platform.

I'm Airborn is available via any device with internet access. As opposed to having to download an app to use the streaming platform, users will be able to access content directly within their web browsers. Subscribers will be able to access all of I'm Airborn's content for $3.95 per month or $39.95 per year. There are no contracts with I'm Airborn, and viewers get to watch exceptional aviation content without ads or the need for an app to download and keep updated.

I'm Airborn content includes a combination of all-new Original Productions that can't be found anywhere else, as well as popular stories that are free elsewhere and fan-favorite classics that will be new to many viewers.

Aviation fans, professionals, hobbyists and kids who love aviation are invited to I'm Airborn and get "Everything Aviation Every Day...Worldwide!". With video streaming on the rise, and more consumers looking for niche streaming options, I'm Airborn is poised to leave its footprint in the digital aviation media niche.
